

Brookstreet Boosts Bandwidth to Offer Speeds of up to 100Mbps Four-diamond Resort Pumps up the Volume with Telus High Speed Internet

Wednesday, June 22, 2011 – OTTAWA: In answer to guest requests and to address the ever increasing demand for speed and bandwidth, Brookstreet has once again upgraded its Internet services.

Nestled within Silicone Valley North, Brookstreet Hotel has always kept abreast of the latest technologies to cater to its guests' comfort and convenience. With over 22,000 square feet of meeting space, the ever-present demand for Internet enables Brookstreet to offer state-of-the-art webcasting, video-conferencing and multimedia presentation support, as well as wireless high-speed Internet access.

Executive Vice-President Patrice S. Basille comments: "The enhanced performance that we have implemented provides our guests with speeds over 6 times faster than were enjoyed before and some of the fastest in Ottawa. We continually make adjustments to our infrastructure to ensure that meetings can progress smoothly with optimum services designated to key areas as required."

About Brookstreet
